Abdo Khal - Wikipedia

Abdo Khal is a Saudi novelist born in al-Majanah, southern Saudi Arabia, in 1962. He studied political science at King Abdel Al Aziz University in Jeddah before starting writing in 1980. He is the author of several works, including: A dialogue at the Gates of the Earth, There's Nothing to be Happy About, and Cities Eating the Grass.

Abdo Khal | International Prize for Arabic Fiction
Abdo Khal studied political science and began his career as a preacher before becoming a primary school teacher. He turned to writing as a way of attacking the corruption of the wealthy in the Arab world. Khal describes his novels as being about 'sex, politics, and religion... the things that make up people's lives'.
