~~Far Side | Definition of Far Side by Merriam-Webster~~

The far side of the Moon is the hemisphere of the Moon that always faces away from Earth. The far side's terrain is rugged with a multitude of impact craters and relatively few flat lunar maria compared to the near side. It has one of the largest craters in the Solar System, the South Pole-Aitken basin. Both sides of the Moon experience two weeks of sunlight followed by two weeks of night; even so, the far side is sometimes called the "dark side of the Moon", where "dark" is used to mean ...

We often call the far side of the Moon the 'dark' side, but this name is misleading. It does not mean that it never receives sunlight but that the dark side always faces away from us on Earth. Prof Sara Russell, a Merit Researcher at the Museum studying the evolution of the Moon, says, 'It's not the dark side as it gets as much light on it as any part of the Moon. It's just we can't see it, as one lunar face is always pointing to the Earth.'
